Choose an Auto Glass Shop

One of the first steps to finding a business to repair or replace your windshield is finding a trustworthy expert who has a high standard of workmanship and someone who can properly repair or replace your windshield and replace your windows if needed.

PICK A CERTIFIED AUTO GLASS REPLACEMENT COMPANY

Advantage Windshield and Glass technicians are Auto Glass Safety Council Certified, which means we follow Auto Glass Replacement Safety Standards (AGRSS). Vehicle windshields have to meet Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards to guarantee passenger safety and the integrity of the vehicle. Advantage Windshield and Glass is AGRSS compliant. We take the replacement of your windshield seriously and care about your safety because your windshield is considered a major constraint system in your car.

We at Advantage Windshield & Glass work hard to find the best solution for your auto glass needs whether it is a new car, truck, classic, semi-trucks or fleet vehicle.

WORKMANSHIP & QUALITY ARE CRUCIAL

Customer service plays an integral part in the process of finding an experienced Glass shop. Communication is a key component in making sure the process goes smoothly. At Advantage Windshield and Glass you get to talk to a real person with experience.

Another important factor to consider is the kind of parts and materials companies use as well as their workmanship. Make sure to ask what type of material they use and if they use original glass. A reputable provider will ensure that their products are authentic. This means you are getting the exact glass that was in your vehicle before the glass was damaged. Advantage Windshield and Glass offers the best products for our customers.

ASK FRIENDS AND FAMILY WHO THEY'VE USED FOR GLASS REPAIR

Auto glass repair businesses do high volume business. However, they should never be too busy to answer a phone. Ask friends and family if they've had to use a glass shop and who they chose. Ask them if they liked the people, their workmanship and ethics! A good reputable business has a good reputation for a reason.

DON'T LET YOUR INSURANCE COMPANY STEER YOU IN ONE DIRECTION.

You have a choice!

You have the right to take your vehicles to the repair shop of your choice. The insurance company cannot provide a limited list or use coercion to force a customer to follow the insurance company's instruction.

Auto glass repair can be costly especially when it comes to automobiles. The first step is to call your insurance company and find out if the glass is covered and if there is a deductible. If it is, at this point be sure to tell your insurance provider the shop of your choice. It's common for auto glass repair shops to be experts at dealing with insurance. You could find yourself not even having to pay a deductible.

HOW TO CHOOSE YOUR NEW COUNTERTOPS

Looking to give your countertops a whole new look? Durability, cleaning, maintenance, and design are solid reasons to visit Affordable Countertops, LLC.

We offer a wide variety of Laminate and Solid Surface countertops in hundreds of color options for new or replacement counters for your kitchen, bathroom, laundry room, garage or motorhome.

HERE'S AN EASY STEP BY STEP GUIDE:

1. Select your countertop material – laminate or solid surface.

Solid Surface Benefits: Solid Surface is a man-made acrylic material with durability similar to that of natural stone. Unlike other surfaces, it does not require application of sealants or waxes. Solid Surface endures everyday wear and tear with higher resistance to stains and chemicals. With proper care, it will remain beautiful and durable for decades to come. Solid Surface can easily be fabricated with a seamless design.

Laminate Benefits: Laminate countertops offer a budget friendly way to refresh your home. Our high-pressure laminate by Formica and Wilsonart outperforms traditional veneer and thermal fused laminate for impact and higher scratch resistance.

2. Visit our showroom located at 1101 Gauge Dr, (Suite G) to browse our samples. Our trained staff will walk you through your countertop selection process.

3. We offer free measurements and quotes. If you are undecided on your countertop material, we are happy to provide you with a quote for both.

4. Call us today at 928-855-8677 to get started!

If you have your own measurements, we are happy to provide you with a quote to assist you with budgeting your project.

REMNANTS:

Do you have a small project or odd job that you need tops for? Affordable Countertops can help you with that! We have a large selection of Laminate and Solid Surface remnants available at a reduced cost for you to choose from. Come to our showroom and see for yourself!

HOW TO

Choose a HVAC Contractor

We are definitely not strangers to the sweltering heat that visits our beautiful city every year. Even though it gets brutally hot each and every year, isn't it ironic we still continue to say, "It's a hot one today".

When the mercury rises most of us can rest assured knowing that it's cool and comfortable inside your home. Now imagine for a moment it's well over 100 degrees outside when you get home from work only to discover your air conditioner has completely gone out. What would you do? Many would open the yellow pages, call every outfit in town to get a price on a replacement system and whoever comes in the lowest and the fastest is all too often the winning bidder. This is a huge mistake.

So what should you EXPECT from your HVAC Contractor when you are in the market for a new heating and cooling system? It needs to be realized that there are both professional HVAC companies and fly-by-night companies. Since the average HVAC job will be installed and used for many, many years it is extremely important that you arm yourself with the knowledge to make an educated decision.

First and foremost when calling around for an estimate (by the way, system replacement estimates should always be FREE) ask the salesperson this simple question; "How does your company determine the size of the heating/ cooling equipment for my house?" There is only one correct answer to this question. By Manual J Calculation. Other acceptable answers may be "By an engineering analysis", "By a room-by-room load analysis", "By measuring and calculating the load for each room", "By ACCA software", "By using a computer design" or similar methods that specify an actual mathematical calculation was done that is based on solid science. A common misconception in this industry is estimates should be able to be given over the telephone, but in actuality, it's a far more scientific method than most are aware. Do not expect any company of this caliber to be 'cheap'. In fact, the added value they bring to the table will likely put their quote substantially above a company that shoots from the hip, or uses square footage to determine sizing. Improperly sized equipment can lead to discomfort, short cycling, higher energy costs and shorter equipment life. You're investing several thousand dollars do you really want to take a gamble? Some unacceptable answers are: "By square footage", "By looking at the size of your existing equipment", "I've got XX years experience I can tell by just looking". What they are really saying is, "I guess." These air conditioning contractors that are good at one thing; cutting corners to the point that they are the low bidder on a job.

My family has been in the air condition industry for over 100 years combined and I can tell you with complete confidence the only way you can be assured you are getting an accurate estimate that is custom designed to your particular house is by measuring the entire house, room by room, window by window, checking the insulation, determining construction techniques and calculating the actual heat gain or loss of the house and each individual room.

With that important factor out of the way there are some other qualities you should look for when talking or meeting with an HVAC contractor. Don't be afraid to ask questions regarding the company's licensing, certifications and what insurance coverage they carry. You may also contact the local building authorities to see if there are any complaints or violations on any of your candidates. Also, don't hesitate to ask for references of past customers they've done work for. A reputable company that stands behind their work would have no problem sharing that information with you. If they can't provide references, I suggest you move on. Also, be leery of any contractor that openly bad mouth's a competitor; that's just bad business practices.

Ultimately, the HVAC contractor you choose should make you feel comfortable right from the beginning, be willing and able to answer any and all of your inquiries and should never make you feel like you're being pressured into anything. Good contractors think about more than just dollars and cents. A good contractor will be interested in building a good working relationship with you and ensuring you are satisfied with the level of service they provide. Bottom line, it pays to do your homework. And remember, that the lowest bid isn't necessarily the right one, it's best to hire the best you can afford. After all, it's not pocket change that you're investing here.

Please do not hesitate to call drop by Air Control Home Services with any questions you may have about getting a new a/c installed or if you have questions about the Manual J Load Calculation.

Sincerely,
Amanda Zink

HOW TO

Choose an Archery Shop

Whether you're a novice or a pro, looking to purchase or add to your own equipment, finding a pro-shop with expertise assistance can be challenging to say the least; but it doesn't have to be that way. However, after reading this article you will know Bears Archery, Guns & Prospecting offers excellent service, making your buying experience nothing but pleasurable. Bears Archery, Guns & Prospecting, wants you to walk out feeling as though you have made a solid investment in equipment that fits your needs.

WHY A PRO SHOP?

In order to fit you with the perfect bow and or accessories the person assisting you will have to be knowledgeable and well versed in all aspects of archery. This starts with matching the correct bow to fit the right person. Because people come in all sizes a bow is determined by your draw length. To determine this, the person assisting you will have you draw a bow back. While you are at full draw, you will be measured properly.

However, draw length isn't the thing you need to consider when choosing the proper bow. Modern compound bows come in different draw weights and can be adjusted in 1 pound increments. Men and women differ in frame size and weight. A larger framed man may be able to begin with a 45-60 lb. draw weight while a woman may want to start out with a 25-30 lb. draw weight. A beginner will want to start out with a lighter weight until you've mastered your form and increased muscle strength.

CHOOSING YOUR BOW.

Now that you know your draw length and weight it's time to choose a bow. These days' bows have become a thing of beauty, masterfully fabricated and constructed with looks and even better yet, efficiency. Graphics and color are important but the fit is most important. The bow you choose should sit in your hand as if it is an extension of your arm and hand.

Bears Archery, Guns & Prospecting will show you several options in your draw length and weight. Does it feel balances and does the weight of the bow feel comfortable?

ACCESSORIZE!

Now that you have this important information, it is time to accessorize. There are a wide variety of accessories to choose from. This can often be confusing and overwhelming. So, like choosing your bow, there are many important factors to take into consideration. This is when a pro shop becomes essential in your future archery success. Having a qualified person who has expertise knowledge on setting up an individual's bow is critical.

Bears Archery, Guns & Prospecting will guide you through what works and what an individual's needs are, fitting them to not only the best equipment but the correct equipment. Just like any other sport, archery can build confidence.

Accessories such as arrows (and there are a wide variety), sights, arrow rests (for best arrow flight and probably most important), releases (a sort of trigger that releases the string) and stabilizers (take the shock out of the bow and adds balance) are just a few of pieces of the puzzle that will make a new archers archery experience a success.

GETTING BACK TO SETTING UP YOUR BOW.

Now that you have all the accessories, with the help of an expert, he or she can begin to put all your new parts on your chosen bow. Having an expert present is priceless. They will be able to adjust and teach you valuable tools and form so that you will succeed as you grow with your new sport.

HANG AROUND OTHER ARCHERS!

You can learn valuable shooting tips, equipment choices and other wisdoms that otherwise might take years of trial and error to figure out on your own. Bears does offer private archery instruction by a qualified archer instructor. No other venue offers as much opportunity for this than a quality pro-shop.

MAKING THE RIGHT CHOICE

Another clue to finding a reputable shop is, do the people who work there shoot? If they do, they will be more than happy to show you what equipment they use and the benefits of each piece. Pay attention to what they show and tell you because chances are they have found the best of what the market has to offer, saving you time and money.

HOW TO

Pick a Hearing Aid Dispenser

Hearing Aids are a key aspect of auditory rehabilitation as they will greatly improve the quality of life for someone with a hearing loss, as well as those around them. This is because hearing aids work by amplifying important sounds, such as speech, to ensure that the user is able to participate in activities. This in turn prevents the negative effects of a hearing loss such as depression, limited social interaction, cognitive decline, loss of relationships, and issues in work and academic settings.

Noise Reduction

All hearing aids have some amount of noise reduction available. The amount of noise reduction varies based on the technology level of the devices.

Wireless Connectivity

Increasingly, hearing aids can wirelessly interface with certain Bluetooth-compatible devices, such as cell phones, music players, televisions and remote controls. Most smart phones now have apps that allow you to control volume, program changes, fine tuning of your devices, and some can directly stream the phones audio to the hearing aids without having to piggy back off of an additional Bluetooth device.

Synchronization

For an individual with two hearing aids, the aids can be programmed to function together so that adjustments made to a hearing aid on one ear (volume control or program changes) will also be made on the other aid, allowing for simpler control.

Battery

Powers the device. You can now choose from traditional hearing aid batteries and rechargeable. Some of the newer rechargeable batteries can offer up to 30 hours.

Product Knowledge

The right hearing aid dispenser will share their expert knowledge and make it easy for you to understand. Since most of us aren't experts on hearing aids, you need to look for a dispenser who is. Not only should they have an understanding of the medical reasons behind hearing loss – since every hearing situation is different – but they should have in-depth knowledge of their hearing aid products.

Hearing aids can be complex devices, especially when you're looking at high-end models that can be customized extensively to match your hearing needs. A good dispenser can take those technical terms and make them easy for you to understand.

Follow-up Service

When you buy a hearing aid from a good dispenser, one of the things you're paying for is good service. And that includes service after the sale. This is especially true when it comes time to have your hearing aid adjusted or repaired. It's common for hearing aids to require several follow-up visits to make sure they are fitted and adjusted correctly for your ear, so you should look for a dispenser that is both technically proficient and a good listener. They should be able to understand your hearing needs and make any changes necessary to fix any problems you find.

You should also ask about loaner devices if your hearing aid needs a repair. Most hearing aid dispensers will be able to do some repairs in-house quickly, but major repairs may require your hearing aid to be mailed off. This is when it's good to know their policy about loaner devices.

In the end, if you shop carefully and investigate their reputation, you can find a hearing aid dispenser that will help you find the right aid at the right price. And when you do, you'll be much more likely to be happy with the results from your hearing aid.

HOW TO

Choose an Auto Repair Shop & Towing Company

TOWING COMPANY

When you're trying to choose a towing company, finding one with plenty of experience is vital. Whether you're towing a small car, an RV or anything in between, you want your driver to be experienced. This way you can be sure your vehicle will be tied down properly and will get to your desired destination safely.

Not all towing companies are alike. At Busy B Automotive we believe in helping our customers 24 hours a day 7 days per week 365 days per year, we are there to help you out and make sure we get you on your way safely and timely. Busy B will also help you launch or retrieve your boat if you break down on your way to or from the lake.

As the weather warms, and you take more to the outdoors and enjoy the sunshine, with rising temperatures and summer road trips, vacations are the norm, but it is important to realize that hot weather can take its toll even on a new, well maintained vehicle.

High temperatures can cause all sorts of damage to a vehicle, from zapping battery power to overtaxing the cooling system. Recognizing potential hot-weather risks and performing routine checks on the vehicle are the keys to keeping vehicles in top form.

There's nothing more important than feeling comfortable with the company you choose, at Busy B Automotive we strive for your comfort and always here when you need us!

AUTO REPAIR SHOP

As an automobile owner, you should consider building a good relationship with a local, high-quality auto repair shop. That relationship can make a huge difference when you find yourself facing unexpected repairs.

Consider these additional things to bear in mind when you're looking for an auto repair shop:

- Most people choose an auto repair shop based on a referral from friends, family or coworkers. Fewer than 40 percent of new customers are walk-ins.
- Ask about the shop's range of services. They will need the latest technology to diagnose problems with newer cars. For example, can your prospective shop handle brake systems, electrical components and warranty repairs?
- Look for brand names and proper certification. Does the auto repair shop use brand-name parts? These parts are engineered to meet the manufacturer's specifications and will likely come with a warranty. Shops may use remade or generic brands which your insurance policy may not cover, so be sure to check.
- Don't pick a shop based on cost; poor repair work will mean higher costs in the long run. Once you have found a shop you trust, establish a good working relationship with your mechanic. When you have great communication, getting repair work completed will be less painful.

HOW TO

Become a grilling expert at Crown Ace Hardware

Crown Ace Hardware has two locations in Lake Havasu and both are experts when it comes to setting you up with a Traeger Grill, the best wood pellet grill in the world! Traeger invented the very first wood pellet grill in Mount Angel, Oregon over 30 years ago and is still the best-selling pellet grill on the market. As a leader in the industry, Traeger continues to develop new grill innovation such as WiFIRE® control, allowing users to access their grill on the go right from their smartphone, and Smoke Science technology, ensuring the best-tasting smoke flavor.

Wood pellet grills use an auger that moves the hardwood pellets from the hopper to the fire pot underneath the grill. The higher the set temperature, the more pellets are dispensed into the auger. Once in the fire pot, a hot rod ignites the pellets creating a fire, then a fan stokes the fire creating convection heat to evenly cook your food in the grill. A drip tray sits over the fire pot, keeping the direct flames off your food while catching food drippings to help prevent flare-ups.

Digital electronic controls make setting your grill as easy as setting your oven, all it takes is the turn of a dial. Traeger grills use Advanced Grilling Logic® to ensure that you get consistent temperatures throughout your cook, and some models even offer

Smoke Science technology. This increases smoke production within the grill when you use the Super Smoke mode function, and ensures your grill only uses the highest quality smoke, thin blue smoke, for optimal flavor.

Wood pellet grills are the easiest way to achieve amazing wood-fired flavor without all the work. Traeger grills offer 6-in-1 versatility that allows you to grill, smoke, bake, roast, braise, and BBQ food all with the same grill. That means you can smoke a rack of ribs low and slow, or grill a wood-fired pizza hot & fast, and even bake a berry cobbler.

They use hardwood fuel giving your food real-hardwood taste. When you use Traeger pellets you can rest easy knowing you're cooking with 100% all natural hardwood giving you the purest flavor possible. Cooking with wood also means having the option of selecting from a variety of hardwood flavors that complement the different foods you cook. Fruit woods like cherry or apple wood allow you to achieve a sweeter flavor, and bolder woods like hickory and mesquite give a stronger, savory smoke flavor.

Want to learn more about Traeger? Stop by your local Crown Ace Hardware to check out our new line of Traeger grills, wood pellets and grilling accessories!!

How and why to Choose Nutritional Solutions for Dogs and Cats.

Dorita's Place - Nutritional Solutions for Dogs and Cats

Choosing a healthy diet for your pets is key to their overall health. It may seem like a simple process, but depending on your pet's individual needs it can become a tedious task. Dorita's Place offers the largest variety of specifically selected all-natural pet food for your beloved four-legged family members.

Dorita's Place opened in May of 2006 with one mission; Provide all-natural dog and cat food and a commitment to educate pet owners about pet nutrition. The knowledgeable and friendly team at Dorita's Place are passionate and more than happy to assist you in your quest for providing your pet with the nutritional diet solution from the amazing selections they offer. We carefully select our products with an emphasis on being family owned and operated. We choose pet food manufacturers with precise care considering the sourcing and types of ingredients used in all products.

What are the benefits of feeding a quality food?

Just like humans, animal health is directly impacted by the quality of food they ingest. While most stores will carry a huge range of products, regardless of what the ingredient panel offers and at different price points, it's a good idea to select the best food you can afford for your pet. Dorita's offers our customers the options of feeding based on price point as well as what we like to refer to as biologically appropriate (a Raw Diet, the healthiest way to feed) based on your pet's needs. Our staff will assist you with any of your questions or existing issues to appropriately direct you to the right diet; Raw, Freeze Dried Raw, dry or canned to help you select what is appropriate for your pet. We will take into consideration conditions such as, allergies, skin issues, sensitive stomachs or other health concerns. Our mission is to help you select what is best for the improved health, and life and longevity of your pet.

What is the Difference Between a high Quality and Low-Quality Food or Treat?

-- LOOK AT THE INGREDIENTS! --

Federal law requires ingredients on Pet Food and treat labels to be listed in order by the most weight of ingredient before the cooking process. Determining the quality of a food or a treat is as easy as reading the label. Do not believe the commercial on TV or the pictures on the bag, or just what is talked about on social media, that could get you more confused. Read the label, and we will be happy to assist you with that too.

When you buy better quality food, your pets will have fewer allergic reactions, be able to digest their food better and will ultimately live healthier lives. That means strong muscles, teeth and bones, along with stronger immune systems that can fight off diseases more effectively.

What you will find at Dorita's Place. Knowledgeable Staff

Dorita's Place offers not only quality brands, but also knowledgeable expertise to help you pick the right selections whether it's diet, treats or supplements. Our team at Dorita's have years of first-hand experience. They understand that raising pets is crucial to finding a nutritional healthy balance.

How to Choose a Golf Course

Nothing beats a great game of golf when played on the best of courses.

Golf remains one of America's most popular sports. Men, women and even children enjoy spending time on a golf course. The quiet, beautiful surroundings are a fantastic way to unwind and escape from daily life.

If you are looking for a great golf course, you have many options. With enough research, you can find a location that will stretch your skills without breaking your budget.

THE COURSE

The course itself is the top factor for any serious golfer.

The ideal course should be difficult enough to challenge you. While going to the same handful of courses close to home is a good way to learn the basics, now is the time to grow your skill set.

Most golf courses display their course layouts online. There is also a difficulty rating so you know what to expect. Look for a layout and rating that is very different from your usual fare.

Sometimes, professional golfers officially endorse a golf course. They might even prepare a statement to give golfers insight into the arrangement. Some golf course designers have stellar reputations. Find out if there are any well-known names involved with your prospective golf course.

The best courses match the natural surroundings. They will provide a beautiful backdrop to put you in the right frame of mind. Sometimes, the most memorable experience comes from playing in extraordinary settings.

AMENITIES

Amenities can bring added enjoyment to your game, especially if you are traveling with family or friends.

Family-oriented amenities include pools, water slides and kiddie play areas. Others are better for couples, such as a romantic restaurant, hot tub and scenic guest areas.

Anyone who owns or manages a business knows that golf courses are excellent places to hold meetings or executive retreats. Some of the best courses provide meeting rooms and guest services that rival five-star hotels.

The bottom line is that the amenities should match the purpose of your visit. Each location is different, catering to a unique clientele and price points. Shop around for a good match.

SERVICES

Every course offers a list of services that will make your visit more enjoyable.

Ask about club and equipment rental. The smartest golfers prefer to try different brands of equipment before buying it. It is often the way they find the best clubs.

Take advantage of other services that might be offered. Most facilities know that a golf course is an excellent escape from daily life. They want you to feel pampered and special.

Why not improve on your swing a little while you're there? Many golf courses offer specials on lessons you can take advantage of.

And don't forget about the tournaments. While you're researching courses, look for special tournaments you can get into to test out the course, possibly at a cheaper price.

The best golf courses have gorgeous settings, excellent amenities and exceptional service, as well as the challenging course.

HOW TO

Choose a Cleaning Service

If you are in the process of hiring a house cleaner, there are many factors to consider: Should you hire an independent cleaner or a professional cleaning service? When narrowing down your options to find the right house cleaner for you, this is the main deciding factor as to what your experience will be. However, there are some key differences that you should know before deciding which service you should hire. Both services have benefits, so choosing will depend on which one fits your needs better.

AVAILABILITY AND RELIABILITY

Happy Home Cleaners is a family-owned and operated business. This means that your satisfaction means the world to us; we will go the extra mile to ensure that your house is cleaned on time—no matter what.

Perhaps you would prefer a specific time and day of the week for your recurring cleaning. Your independent cleaner may not have the availability to make that happen. But a professional service will have more employees and more flexibility to better match your schedule and your needs.

One of the major benefits of cleaning companies is reliability. You should trust before letting someone inside your home, and cleaners are no exception. Cleaning companies ensure cleaners are trustworthy by vetting them carefully and running a background check before taking them as employees. On the other hand, determining that an independent cleaner is trustworthy relies upon you.

BACKGROUND CHECKS

Be sure to ask the cleaning company you are hiring how they vet their employees or ask independent cleaners to provide their background checks. People who have nothing to hide and take their business seriously are never insulted or upset by such questions. You're giving this person access to your home, so it's better to be safe than sorry.

INSURANCE AND LEGALITY QUESTIONS

Because a house cleaner is someone who you are paying to work in your home, they are not covered under your homeowner's insurance. If something is broken, or if the wrong cleaning product damages your wood floor or granite countertop, you are the one to foot the bill for the repair or replacement. And if you've hired an independent contractor, this means that you are personally financially responsible for medical bills or lost wages if someone is injured while they are cleaning your home. But with a professional cleaning company like Happy Home Cleaners, we are all fully insured, and are required to carry Worker's comp policy so you never have to worry about being financially liable.

EFFICIENCY AND TRAINING

Professional house cleaners go through extensive training to learn how to clean your home efficiently. There is a big difference in the result you get when you hire a professional service. Technicians who work for a cleaning service like Happy Home Cleaners learn proper cleaning techniques to clean your home, as well as time efficiency, appropriate use of tools and cleaning products so that your home is cleaned to the very highest of standards, in record time.

If you hire an independent house cleaner, it may take them considerably longer to clean your home. While a trained professional might clean your home in a few hours, it could take an independent contractor all day, with less impactful results.

Cleaning your home means that you remove all clutter and mess. Sanitizing your home is a focus on your house's hygiene. Some cleaning products don't remove all germs and viruses, which exposes your family to illness. A well-trained professional knows the germiest places in your home, and how to properly handle them. They know which products to use, and how to use them safely to kill bacteria and keep your home safe.

Ask our clients—they love the work we do for them, and we could not be more proud of the impact our professional cleaning services have on their lives. That's why we do what we do.

Hiring a cleaning company or an independent contractor should be a relief, not a headache, we are sure that both services could help you. Let us show you the professional difference; you won't believe how your home can sparkle and shine. Request a free estimate today!

Choose a Pest Control Company

Cockroaches, bugs, termites. These and other insect infestations can cause nightmares for homeowners. Pests can ruin the serenity of your home or place of business and cause damage. And an untreated infestation can quickly become unmanageable. If it involves termites, it could even threaten the structure of your home.

If the problem hasn't spread, you may be able to contain and eradicate these pests on your own. But if you're dealing with an infestation you just can't seem to stop, it's probably time to call in the help of a professional.

The right pest company will handle the problem quickly. Here are some tips to help you search for a company in your area.

A LIST OF COMPANIES

Your first step is to make a list of companies in your area that provide services you need. Check out companies online or who advertise in your local newspaper.

You may also ask friends, family and businesses in the area who they use to keep pests away.

Next, research each company's background, and how long they have been in business. Look at customer service reviews.

Shorten the list of possible providers and then contact the Better Business Bureau by phone or email. Ask if the companies have any complaints filed against them.

TYPES OF TREATMENTS

Narrow your list further by contacting the companies directly. Ask them what kind of products they use when treating a residence. Powders, sprays and other forms vary dramatically in effectiveness as well as toxicity.

If you have children or pets, this issue is an urgent concern. Many treatments can be toxic to people and animals. Poisoned bait, for instance, is a method that homeowners with children or pets should avoid.

Companies should have solutions for these situations. Some companies offer environmentally friendly, alternatives, such as naturally based compounds that some may prefer. These treatments might include citrus-based agents and trap-based rodent control.

RESEARCH

Prior to contacting anyone, educate yourself about common pests in your area. Check to see if these pests are on your property. You might find evidence such as droppings or other indications that they are in your yard or home.

Look on the internet to discover which solutions are used to control these pests. Some cities or communities have laws regarding pesticide applications. There might be regulations concerning licensing and insurance for pest control companies.

Now, contact the service providers for more detailed information about prices, processes and other information. You should call at least two different businesses so you can compare services.

Listen to their sales pitch and ask questions. Reliable, reputable business should always answer your questions honestly.

Finally, trust your instincts. If the workers seem inexperienced or you don't trust their information, look elsewhere.

A quality pest control company will not only help you with your current situation, it will also prevent future flare-ups. You can take comfort knowing that this is one problem someone else has under control.

Choose an Antique & Collectibles Store

The Joy of Antiques

Those who seek out antiques and collectibles are driven by at least one of two passions: for the objects themselves and what they might mean to an individual or their interest in history, or they recognize their value and hunt antiques in order to connect with a collector. Sometimes passion and profit collide.

But there's no denying that antiques and collectibles intersect at the point where nostalgia meets art in everyday things.

The character of older products and the sense of history dating back decades or generations can be inexplicably attractive. It's because we know every antique and collectible piece has a story. Some have multiple stories embedded in the array of nicks and scrapes marking them. And we're often free to imagine our own stories about their pasts.

Antiques and collectibles don't go out of style. No matter what the piece, there's a good chance it will always be of interest to someone — a collector, a museum curator, a professional collector or an auctioneer.

Usually, a piece should be at least 50 years old to be considered a true antique. Vintage should be at least 20 years old.

"Collectible" and "vintage" are not synonymous with "antique." That's an important distinction to keep in mind when shopping for authentic pieces.

Many items considered antiques are simply collectibles. View-Masters, vinyl records, 10¢ comics and even old sports memorabilia are some examples of popular collectibles that are not antiques. Also, vintage items are usually from a certain time period, such as the 1970s or 1980s.

When looking for authentic antiques & collectibles, quality, craftsmanship, manufacturer and history of the piece are paramount.

Where to find antiques

Online stores and sites such as eBay, flea markets and estate sales are great places to find antiques or collectibles. They might even offer you a good deal. But unless you really know your antiques use these venues with caution. Know the difference between a genuine antique and a fake. And never buy something without inspecting it.

Auction sites may be convenient, but you will have to add the cost of shipping and insurance to the price of the item. It is cheaper to find the same item at a local shop or estate sale. You can use an online auction site for research, to see what other people are bidding on the same or similar pieces. But to truly find the best and most authentic deals, shopping your local antique stores is your best bet.

You are much more likely to get a better deal on an authentic piece at your local antique shop. Local shop owners like to build a rapport with their customers and love to talk about the history of their inventory. When you shop locally, you will also have the assurance of being able to validate works before purchasing them.

Forming a relationship

After you have located two or three prospective dealers, visit their shops.

If you are searching for a particular item, most dealers will try to locate it for you. If they don't have the item, they might be able to tell you about another dealer who carries it.

Creating a good relationship with an antiques or collectibles dealer has many advantages. Dealers can give you their assurance you that the pieces are authentic and often offer regular clients better prices. Reputable dealers can also help you find other resources, such as conferences and conventions that can help educate you in the art of finding the perfect antique or collectible for your home or office.

Choose a Hospice

Decisions about hospice care can be difficult. They are personal and important, best made by the patient and family, with cooperation from the physician. Hospice care provides compassionate comfort care to people with a life-limiting illness and their families. Hospice care addresses physical, mental, emotional and spiritual needs. The hospice philosophy is a belief that everyone has the right to die with dignity. The focus is on caring, not curing.

ARE ALL HOSPICES THE SAME?

Hospices that participate with Medicare, and most do, provide the same basic services. However, there still may be differences between providers that might make one a better choice for you over another. The best way to really know – is to compare.

Medicare recently launched the website, Hospice Compare, which provides lists and ratings of hospice providers in your community.

DO I NEED A DOCTOR'S RECOMMENDATION TO A SPECIFIC HOSPICE?

No. The choice of hospice agency is up to you. It is your right to pick the hospice you want. You can also keep your physician if you'd like.

HOW DO I KNOW WHICH HOSPICE IS BEST FOR ME?

Once you have narrowed down a list of hospice providers and scheduled consultations with each, prepare a list of questions. Here are some important questions to determine which hospice is right for you or your loved one.

- How long has this hospice been in operation? A hospice agency that has been around for a while, that's an indication of stability.
- How quickly will a plan of care be developed for the individual by the hospice?
- Who makes up the hospice care team, and how are they trained or screened?
- Is the hospice provider not-for-profit or for profit? Not-for-profit hospices typically have care teams that are able to spend more time with patients.

- Does the hospice provider have a dedicated pharmacist to help adjust medications?
- Does the hospice promise to take all eligible patients, regardless of their financial or insurance situation? Some hospices are able to provide care to un- or underinsured patients, while others cannot.
- What respite services are available to let the caregiver have a break?
- What counseling services are available? Grief and caregiver support benefits family and caregivers, in addition to the patient. Types of grief support can vary and may include individual counseling, support groups, educational materials, and outreach letters.
- Are volunteer services available? Hospice volunteers can support the patient with friendly calls and letters.
- If circumstances change, can services be provided in different settings, such as an inpatient facility?
- What honors and recognition are available for veterans? Special recognition can be meaningful and offer peace at end of life to patients who are veterans.

Sell Your Home Fast

If you want to sell your home quickly, there's no super-secret formula. While every neighborhood and property is unique, following these simple, tried-and-true steps will make it much more likely to see a "sold" sign in your front yard as soon as possible.

PRICING

The most important step is to price your home correctly at the outset, and a good real estate agent can help you with that. Price it too low and you'll leave money on the table. Price it too high, though, and your home will take longer to sell — or won't sell at all — because savvy buyers won't take it seriously.

To hit the pricing bull's eye, you've got to know what is comparable in your market. A good realtor will be able to pull data about recent comps, typically from the last six months, for sales of homes that are similar to yours.

The closer your price is to homes that are actually selling, the more likely you are to get a quick sale.

STAGING

Staging your home is sometimes thought of as an elaborate process that involves redecorating and renting beautiful furniture to make your interior look its best, but it doesn't always have to be that intense.

In its simplest terms, staging is about presenting your home in the most appealing way possible. The goal is to get buyers to imagine putting their own things in your home, so basic steps like clearing out clutter and removing your personal photos can help their imagination go to work.

PHOTOGRAPHY

For most buyers, the first impression of your house won't be made in person. It will be made through photos of your home they see online or in print ads.

That's why it's critical to have good, quality photographs of your home.

In some markets, especially for high-end houses, that might mean having a professional photographer shoot images of your home when it's staged at its best.

For most homes, though, a good, thoughtful realtor or their assistant could do the job. The key is to find someone who knows enough about both photography and real estate to show your property in its best light, inside and out.

The more clear, well-lit pictures that show off the beauty and features of your home, the more buyers are likely to take the next step and schedule a showing.

THE REALTOR

Picking the right realtor is absolutely key to selling your home quickly. Not only should you feel good about them personally — knowing you can communicate well with them, trust them and feel good about them listing your home — but you should find an agent who will work their hardest to market and sell your home quickly.

Ask them about their background, how many similar homes to yours they have sold in recent years and what sets them apart as a realtor. You should also look for examples of the agent's listings and make sure they'll quickly add your home to the MLS with good photos and descriptions of your property.

SPREAD THE WORD

While your real estate agent will take the lead in selling your house, there are also some steps you can do personally to help get the word out about your home.

Let your friends, family and neighbors know that your home is on the market. You can share photos with your Facebook friends and do personal networking to help raise awareness about your home's strong points that potential buyers might enjoy.

You never know where the buyer might come from, so spread the word far and wide.

OPEN HOUSES

It's a good idea to schedule some open houses to let potential buyers and local real estate agents tour your home.

You should make your house look its best, obviously, but also take steps to make your house seem comfortable, cozy and homey when people arrive. Make sure the house smells good, perhaps by baking some fresh cookies or treats for visitors who walk in.

FIX IT UP

Finally, you've got to pay attention to details to make sure your home is in tip-top shape cosmetically. This doesn't necessarily mean you have to spend a lot of money. A little paint and elbow grease can go a long way toward sprucing up most homes.

You'll want to make sure the gardens, flower beds and other landscaping are neat, clean and free of weeds. You should also make a checklist of simple handyman tasks to complete, like replacing burned-out light bulbs, making sure doors and hinges shut properly and don't squeak, and removing stains from your carpet.

Your realtor will be able to help you figure out what needs to be done. They should have the experience and insight to see your home through the eyes of potential buyers, letting you know any steps you can take to improve your chances of a quick sale.

In the end, selling a house quickly takes a lot of work and some specialized knowledge. But it's made much easier when you find the right realtor and take some initiative to find your buyer as fast as possible.

HOW TO

Choose local fine dining

For many Americans, eating out is more than just a pastime; it is necessary. Studies show that most of us eat 25 percent of our meals out. Not only is eating out a great way to get away from home and lighten the work load, it is a convenient way to interact with loved ones and family without spending hours making a meal.

An easy way to make the right dining choice is to ask the locals where they like to eat. Looking on social media such as Trip Advisor, Yelp and Facebook will give you a good indication of how the restaurant experience of others has been. You will find that Juicy's is the top rated restaurant on all social media and is known locally as "The Place with the Great Food!"

A restaurant that has been in town for over 40 years and evolved from a small little fast food restaurant serving great tacos, burritos and fantastic burgers into a top of the line full service restaurant and bar should be a good choice.

OWNER INVOLVEMENT

Is the owner actually involved in the operation of the restaurant and seen dealing with customers and staff making sure all of his/her customers are delighted with their good food, service and everything about their dining experience? This is something you rarely see in this day and age and it's always a good sign; and if that restaurant is busy and not located in the tourist areas, like by the water, restaurant row or on the main drag, you can bet you're going to be very happy with your choice.

Is the staff a reflection of the owner? Juicy's staff are all handpicked and the best trained so that they can provide the best service culture of any restaurant in Lake Havasu as well as anywhere!

Juicy's recently started a VIP Rewards Program to show appreciation to their loyal customers. Free gifts on your birthday and other special occasions including member-only specials. Ask a Juicy's staff member for details.

HELPING YOUR LOCAL ECONOMY

The local dining movement asks people to eat at their neighborhood restaurants. Every meal you eat at your neighborhood restaurant helps your community in a variety of ways. It creates local tax revenue that will be spent in your community as well as it helps local vendors and workers. Many restaurants are part of corporate chains where the profits are shipped to their faraway headquarters and not spent within your community. The more locally focused a business is, the better it will be for your community.

MENU CHOICES

It is always nice to have a variety of menu items to choose from and Juicy's has it, pastas to die for; seafood, hand-cut Alaskan cod served in their famous tempura fish and chips, shrimp dishes, salmon, hand cut steaks and perfect prime rib. A special night for everyone; Monday is south of the border night, Tuesday is pot roast and veggies, Wednesday is pork Chili Colorado Taco Night.

Thursday is corn beef and cabbage, Friday is all you can eat fish and chips and Saturday is prime rib hand cut, charred or blackened.

Don't miss out on Juicy's Happy Hour: 3-6 PM, Monday thru Friday. The best drink & appetizer specials in town.

TIME TO DINE

Next time you decide to eat out, dine at "The Place with the Great Food." It creates a mutually beneficial relationship that makes your community stronger and healthier. That is something that everyone can support.

HOW TO

Choose a Mattress

You may have heard: We spend over a third of our lives in bed, so a comfortable mattress is key to ensuring we spend our waking hours feeling well-rested. Now it's time for a new mattress, and your options are more varied than ever before.

Buying a new mattress is no longer as simple as deciding between firm, medium, or soft. The mattress industry has boomed with the introduction of foam, hybrid, and even air mattresses, along with adjustable platforms and sensor-activated comfort control. The options are endless and can be overwhelming.

But don't lose sleep over shopping for a new mattress. Sure, the number of options can be as daunting as the wide range of prices, but selecting the right mattress for your needs at the right price doesn't have to be difficult.

Ask your friends and family for recommendations, and then start browsing. Or you can come in to the store, and let our experts help you find the right mattress for your needs. Purchasing a mattress is a long-term investment in your health and self-esteem. Don't be afraid of looking at higher end options. Often, pricier mattresses may be on sale, giving you the opportunity to buy the mattress you really want, while saving hundreds. Quality mattresses last longer, many even have ten year warranties, so you will not have to go through the trouble of buying another mattress in a year or two. Or worry as much about the mattress sagging and breaking down.

Consider your bed size. Is it time to buy a bigger bed? Perhaps you would like to sprawl out and relax. Do you need a mattress for your guest bedroom? Maybe take the opportunity to upgrade your own mattress and move yours to the spare room.

WHEN BUYING A NEW MATTRESS, HERE ARE A FEW OTHER THINGS TO KEEP IN MIND:

Do you need a firm or soft mattress? People with a bad back, neck or leg pain, or other circulatory problems might require firm support to keep their spines aligned. Other people prefer flexible support that fits the contours of their bodies.

Do you sleep with another person? Mattresses made of memory foam might be beneficial, as it will give you a personalized experience without disturbing the other person's sleep.

Standard mattresses can exacerbate allergies if you are sensitive to lint, cotton, dust or dust mites. If you or your partner have allergies, consider getting a latex, foam or adjustable air mattress. You might also think about getting a hypoallergenic mattress cover.

WHEN YOU ARE LOOKING AT ACTUAL MATTRESS OPTIONS, THE FOLLOWING ARE POPULAR CHOICES:

Pillow-top mattresses are known for their luxurious soft feel; however, they do have levels of firmness. They can vary in feel based on the support system the built into the mattress, or the density of the material used for cushioning.

Innerspring mattresses are great choices for people who want the traditional, buoyant support they are accustomed to. This option has the ability to provide firm support and help keep your spine aligned. Most mattress stores can show you samples of their product lines. Choose the best construction you can afford.

Foam or latex mattress are helpful if you have physical issues, such as skeletal pain or circulatory problems. This mattress conforms to the shape of the body. It also minimizes pressure points on the neck, shoulders and hips.

Hybrid mattresses are designed to combine the best of both worlds. The firm, buoyant support of an innerspring mattress, with the contouring and pressure relief of a foam mattress.

— Adjustable air mattresses allow each person to change the firmness through electronic and mechanical devices that control air chambers. It is an ideal choice for partners who need to have different mattress preferences. You can also alter firmness for yourself, depending on your physical condition.

When shopping for a mattress, don't be afraid of lying down and trying it out. Mattresses feel drastically different when laying on them versus touching or sitting on them. Roll over and pay attention to how your body feels. Are you comfortable?

Inquire about the mattress guarantee or warranty. A standard warranty covers our mattresses for 10 years, with some as long as 20 years. If the warranty is shorter or non-existent, look elsewhere. We have dozens of mattresses that even give you the option to try it at home for up to 90 days, to make sure it is meeting your needs.

Remember, your mattress is a long-term investment. Choose wisely and you will be rewarded with years of restful nights and energetic days.

Thank you for taking the time to read this. Hopefully it has been helpful to you. We look forward to seeing you during your search for your next new mattress. With over sixty mattresses to choose from, we are confident that we can help you find the right mattress for "The Rest of Your Life!"

Choose a Property Management Company

LOOK FOR SPECIALIZED EXPERIENCE

When looking for a property manager you want a company that is on top of current federal, state, and local laws. A company that has a proven record of effectively handling the many variables that come with tenants and homes.

Property Management Inc. / Lake Havasu is a property management company with extensive experience and expertise. At PMI, we care about your investment.

IMPORTANT QUESTIONS TO ASK YOUR PROPERTY MANAGEMENT COMPANY ABOUT LONG-TERM RENTALS.

- Ask how often they inspect the homes
- Ask for a copy of their lease agreement, addendums and move-in-checklists
- Do you do credit and background checks
- How do you handle evictions

QUESTIONS TO ASK YOUR PROPERTY MANAGEMENT COMPANY ABOUT SHORT-TERM AND VACATION RENTALS

- How do you screen your guests
- What are your procedures for maintenance and cleaning
- Make sure the property management receives 5 star reviews with each guest

At PMI Lake Havasu, we want you to have a positive relationship with our clients.

When speaking to a potential investment property manager, ask for current client and tenant references, if available. There are several questions that you could ask in regards to response time to owner inquiries, maintenance issues and filling vacancies? Are their fees clear and transparent? Do checks arrive on time? Also, are repair requests addressed in a timely manner?

With PMI Property management Lake Havasu, you will receive full service. You will get much more than just one over-worked property manager. You get a full team of skilled professionals with the expertise to provide you with the highest level of service and the maximum return on your investment. We concentrate on property management not selling, buying or real estate.

READ THE PROPERTY MANAGEMENT AGREEMENT

The property management agreement outlines the business relationship between you and the property manager, and delineates the management team's tasks and responsibilities. Given the seriousness of the contract, it's incumbent upon you to read it carefully and make any necessary amendments before signing off. Confirm that it covers everything you want, and that there are no disagreeable clauses.

DOES THE PROPERTY MANAGEMENT COMPANY HAVE THE APPROPRIATE INSURANCE?

At PMI Lake Havasu, we have the appropriate general liability insurance and errors and omissions (E&O) policies. The property management agreement may also mandate that you have sufficient insurance, which is beneficial protection for you, too. Feel free to ask us for more about necessary insurance protection.

DOES THE PROPERTY MANAGEMENT COMPANY HAVE EXTENSIVE MARKETING EXPERIENCE?

You need to know that your property will be listed and rented quickly any time a vacancy happens. When your properties sit empty, you lose money.

Your property management company should be visible in the rental market. They should also provide professional, high-quality listing and showing services.

At PMI Lake Havasu, if your property is empty, PMI Lake Havasu does not get paid.

PMI lists properties in multiple places and take the time to make sure our listings stand out from the rest so to attract potential tenants.

SUMMING IT UP

Here at PMI Lake Havasu, we concentrate on your property management not real estate sales. PMI lake Havasu has 38 plus years in property management.

Choose Assisted Living

The Importance of Wellness in Searching for a Senior Living Community

If it's time to search for senior living for yourself or a loved one, the questions you find yourself asking can be dizzying – what sets each community apart? How do they keep track of everyone's medications? How do they get to know each individual resident? What's the food like?

It can be doubly so if you're going through the process for a loved one living with Alzheimer's Disease or dementia. Fear about their wandering, their safety and even what the relationship you have with them will be like as their memory continues to decline.

It's a lot to take in, but there is another question hovering above it all as well: how does each community keep residents engaged and fulfilled?

More than ever, older adults seek active lifestyles, including those living in memory care. Every resident deserves the opportunity to help discover their best self.

To that end, consider the following as you embark on your search and start visiting communities:

Daily life at the community

A busy calendar with a wide variety of options is a sign that community puts a lot of thought into helping residents take part in enriching, fulfilling activities. The more innovative and interesting their event calendar is, the happier the residents will be.

Fitness for fall reduction

Falling is one of the most pressing health concerns for older adults. We lose muscle mass as we age, which is a major cause of falls. A senior living community should have comprehensive fitness programming in place to help residents build and maintain muscle mass, which can help reduce the chance of falling.

Engaging those in memory care

Like anyone else, memory care residents are individuals worthy of dignity and respect, and their sense of purpose and fulfillment should be honored. A memory care community should have a varied calendar of events and activities designed to stimulate and engage those living with memory decline.

Finding the Right Fit

As you visit communities, you'll find yourself assessing the community's cleanliness, the size of the apartments and the available amenities.

But also be sure to speak to some current residents – the more they're engaged in activities, either with each other or staff, the better it speaks to the care the community puts in to their activity schedule.

Residents should have the opportunity to find new hobbies and passions while still tending to their life-long interests.

So as you consider health and safety, make sure wellness is also part of the process.

Celebrate Life at Every Age!

At Prestige, our goal is to not only provide quality care, but to keep our residents active and engaged by nurturing body, mind and spirit.

Our assisted living residents enjoy a wellness-focused lifestyle program that focuses on an array of opportunities designed to help you celebrate life and feel your best, no matter your age.

At Lake Havasu, we also offer our award-winning Expressions Memory Care program, which uses innovative care techniques to turn daily activities into memorable and meaningful events.

We would love to show you around. Call one of our communities to learn more or to schedule your tour today.

What to Look for When Buying Windows

Drafty, single pane aluminum frame windows with exposed weep holes, account for poor insulation, dusty rooms, and higher energy usage in your home. Living in the desert can be hard on our air conditioners, especially when our windows are allowing the cold air we pay for, to escape right out of them.

Aluminum frames, being they are metal and conduct heat or cold, are not energy efficient. In older homes, many windows and patio doors have single or even dual pane with clear glass surrounded by aluminum, allowing 80-90% of the heat or cold to come right in the home. You can tell by standing near these windows during the summer or even during the winter that they are not energy efficient because of the heat or cold coming through them when they are shut.

When replacing existing windows for energy efficiency, vinyl is a great option. Vinyl frames do not transfer heat or cold and upgrading to high-performance energy glass will make them even more energy efficient.

When building a new home, the home owner should look for a full life-time warranty, service from the company they purchase from as well as the manufacturer after the windows are installed. It is helpful when you are making a decision to see and operate the windows and doors.

There are vast differences between the different manufacturers and product lines they each offer. If you are considering vinyl for the energy efficiency, it is definitely important to ask about the warranty, if the manufacturer produces its own vinyl, controls its own vinyl formula, and if the product has been tested in our climate for color changes, warping, cracking, etc. Not all vinyl windows are created equally or made for our extreme environment.

When buying windows for your existing home or new home, remember to ask questions about frame types, glass types and manufacturer warranties to make sure you make the best decision for your budget and home.

For more information, please feel free to contact the River Valley Window Co. team, stop by our showroom at 2650 Kiowa Blvd. N., Lake Havasu City.

Choose a Handgun

For several years, women have been the fastest-growing demographic of new gun owners, according to the National Rifle Association. But many women and men don't have the information they need to choose their first gun.

Whether you are experienced or a novice, you want to find a reputable firearm dealer to begin gathering information on good firearms to fit your needs.

Being informed is essential for responsible gun ownership.

SIZE AND CALIBER

It's a good idea to visit gun shops in order to get a feel for the type of handgun you'd be most comfortable carrying.

Size is going to be a big factor. Large framed pistols are fine if you aren't planning on carrying the gun on your body. These weapons hold more ammunition in the magazine and will manage the recoil better.

Smaller pistols are excellent choices for concealed carrying. It might have stronger recoil because it is a lighter weight. Most concealed carry guns are specifically designed to use at close range and remain hidden when not in use.

Larger caliber weapons will create more damage on your target. Smaller calibers are excellent choices for novices.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

You should also consider whether you're more comfortable carrying a semi-automatic handgun or a revolver. Semi-automatics are more modern and usually come in smaller calibers, known as "auto calibers." Since they are typically magazine-fed, semi-automatics are more complicated than revolvers. They can be slightly more difficult to clean and operate, but they fire quickly and are easy to reload.

On the other hand, revolvers are simpler and more traditional. They have been around a lot longer. There are a wider range of calibers and they are easier to clean, but the firing speed and reload time is significantly reduced. Revolvers are great options for beginners, though some automatics are just as good.

Point-and-shoot accuracy is more important than sighted accuracy in an emergency situation. In self-defense situations, you're usually firing fast and instinctively.

WARNINGS

You should be able to operate your weapon easily. Learn how to switch the safety on and off before you attempt to use it. You should also know how to load and fire the gun.

Spend plenty of time with your weapon at a firing range. Become familiar with its limitations. Take classes that match your level of experience.

Responsible gun ownership starts with gun safety. Never leave your pistol where children can get to it. Handle your weapon in a manner that is safe for you and those around you. Always treat it as though it is loaded, and never point it at anyone you don't intend to shoot.

A knowledgeable gun shop can answer all your questions. Find a shop in your area where employees are passionate about educating the public.

HOW TO

Choose an RV Dealer

There is no crystal ball or magic wand to wave that will point you to the perfect RV to buy. However, there is one fact that stands true. There is something for everyone. There are numerous choices and options to fulfill each traveler and their desire of using it.

The first thing to consider is how will you be using it? Do you want to travel the country or just take it to cooler or warmer climates for long periods of time? The most important thing is to find yourself something that fits your lifestyle, family, and budget.

As you well know, RV's are not cheap. After all, they are basically a home on wheels. They have walls, doors, roofs, plumbing, heating and air conditioning, refrigerators, water heaters, etc... All the accommodations of home. When you really think about everything you get with an RV, the price is very reasonable. Either way you look at it, when making a wise buying decision on something of this magnitude, it is important to put your trust in a dealership that specializes in Recreational Vehicles only.

That's where Sunshine RV comes in. Sunshine RV is Lake Havasu Cities only exclusive RV Dealership. What exclusive means in this case is that RV's Is All They Do! They don't sell boats! They don't sell cars! Their business motto is that you can't be good at anything if you try to do everything.

Sunshine has been selling fun in Lake Havasu for 31 years. Their entire staff is considered to be Lake Havasu's RV experts. Most of which has been there a very long time. Mike Weber, Sunshine RV's General Sales Manager has with the company for 24 years. Ron Francis, the Service Manager, has been working on RV's in Lake Havasu for close to 42 years. Vince Simons, Sunshine's Certified Technician, and Kenny Cloutier, Sunshine's Finance Manager, have both been there for 17 years. There is nobody in Lake Havasu that has the experience that Sunshine RV's Staff has.

So now that you have a local dealer that you can trust to do business with, here are a few ideas to consider when making a buying decision.

Tip#1: Listen to advice from others with a cautious ear. Most travelers have spent a lot of time and money on their RV and they all believe they have the latest and greatest. Talk to RVers that have been at it for a long time and that have had different types of RV's. Life time fifth wheel owners can tell you what is great about owning a fifth wheel, but if they have never owned a motorhome, be careful about their opinions on motorhomes.

Tip#2: Strongly consider the type of camping you would like to do. This should always be your primary focus. The type of camping you do will dictate what rig is best for you and your family. Do you like primitive camping in Glamis or the boonocks? Then you may want to consider a Toy Hauler or a Motorhome. Do you prefer to GLAMP? Then you may want to consider a Luxury Fifth Wheel or a Diesel Pusher. Camping is a lifestyle choice and these days, it can be as basic or as glamorous as you can afford.

Tip#3: Do business with a dealer you can trust. There are a lot of seasonal dealerships that tend to spring up throughout the year. They try to look permanent, but they aren't. They bring in portable signs and portable office buildings and claim that they are here to stay. Then a year later they are gone and you have nobody to turn to if something needs attention. Do business with an established dealer. Look for brick and mortar locations to work with.

For more professional advice, please come to Sunshine RV. They have two locations. Their primary lot with Sales, Parts, and Service is located on the Southside at 2995 Maricopa Ave. Lake Havasu City, AZ. 86406. Their satellite sales lot on the Northside is located at 5601 N Hwy 95. Suite #501 Lake Havasu City, AZ. 86404. Next to Dillard's. Stop by and visit with one of their sales professionals. They can answer all of your questions and help you choose the right RV for you and your family.

HOW TO

Choose an RV Repair Company

There are almost 11 million RV's on the road today in The United States. There will be close to 600,000 RV's sold this year alone. More than ever recorded in history. Who is going to service and maintain these RV's to ensure that you protect your investment? How do you know that you are taking your RV to the right place?

When you need to fix or maintain your Recreational Vehicle, it is essential that you deal with a professional dealership service repair facility. Sunshine RV, your authorized dealer in Mohave and La Paz Counties, has been servicing RV's for almost 31 years. They have Certified RV Technicians ready to help you with any concerns you may have. If you seek experience and excellent customer service, Sunshine RV is your place. Your RV is an enormous investment. Don't trust it to just anyone.

SPECIALIZED EXPERIENCE

Sunshine RV specializes in RV repair only. They don't have boat mechanics or automotive mechanics working on your RV. RV's is all they sell and RV's is all they work on. Don't make the mistake of thinking ordinary mechanics can do RV repairs. The Sunshine RV Service Department has a team with the right tools and experience to handle any job. Some models require specialized equipment or expertise to do the job right. Sunshine Certified Technicians know your specific make and RV model. They will be familiar with problems and glitches that you may encounter. They will also look for areas of concern that may cause bigger problems in the future. The best mechanics will fix problems before they become major issues.

CUSTOMER SERVICE

Sunshine RV remembers that their customers come first. They are open five days a week. They also offer the ability to drop off or retrieve your RV after hours which can be a huge help if you maintain a busy schedule. While location matters, your priority should be to find a quality RV repair facility with qualified technicians that can fix it correctly. Don't be fooled by the temporary dealers selling RV's out of a dirt field with hopes and dreams of becoming something permanent. Go to a dealership that actually has a brick and mortar facility. Finding topnotch professionals is more important than trusting the guy down the street. The Sunshine Team will make it worth the drive.

TRY THEM OUT

Sunshine RV has been ranked highly among some of the best dealers to do business with by the brands that they sell and service. Sunshine RV has recently been chosen by Explorer RV Club as the best place to do business in all of Arizona. They have Service Technicians that consult engineers with brands like Keystone RV and Forest River. When you bring your recreational vehicle to Sunshine RV, take note of their service. They will leave your RV clean! They will finish jobs on time! They stick with their estimated cost and call you before doing extra work! Their performance on routine jobs will indicate what you can expect when your RV needs a major overhaul in the future.

EXTRA SERVICES

The Sunshine RV Service Department can also provide many extra features. For example, some RV repair companies can upgrade your rig with better materials or modern technology. Maybe you need a flat-screen TV to replace your old set, or your flooring needs refreshed. It's a relief for you to know that there is a company that can handle interior issues as well as all other repairs you may need. Cleaning your RV is another consideration. It helps to have a place where your vehicle can get washed. Sunshine RV can make your rig look like new, or they can point to you to a place that will help you.

HOW TO

Choose an Effective Print Media

Print won't go away, digital is just another new channel making things more complicated and more interesting. It's cool to browse the www. but the baby boomers and beyond like to feel, smell and read a paper or shopper. Especially if they have spent hours or most of their day behind a monitor.

HERE ARE A FEW REASONS TO RETHINK PRINT

Print – the sensory media experience. Perhaps the most important benefit of print media is tangibility. Among the many reasons why many people prefer print is to do with the feel of the paper, having it in their hands means that the content is real, it exists. Print media is unique in its ability to trigger a number of senses; of course sight, the feeling of the paper in your hands and the smell of the ink on the paper. Martin Lindstrom, writer of Brand Sense, says that when brands appeal to more than three senses, advertising effectiveness will increase by 70%.

UNLIMITED EXPOSURE AND NON-INTRUSIVE

Print media such as newspapers, magazines and shoppers allow for unlimited exposure. Unlike television or radio where advertising time is scheduled, prospects have potential exposure to print ads at virtually any time. A newspaper, magazine or shopper left on a coffee table can be viewed repeatedly and at reader's discretion. The reader also has the opportunity to study the ad at his or her leisure and isn't limited to 30 or 60 seconds. Print ads are less intrusive than other forms of media. Radio, television or online ads often interrupt programming which can sometimes be an annoyance. With print media, the prospect has greater control as to when she views the ads, which eliminates interruptions.

TARGETED ADVERTISING

Target people who are looking for your products and services online! Using cutting-edge audience targeting technology our Targeted Advertising solution will place your business in front of people who are looking online or have already shown interest in your products and services. Get seen on thousands of websites visited by your potential customers on desktop and mobile devices.

LOYAL READERSHIP

Print media sources tend to have longstanding, loyal readership. People may read their hometown newspaper or local shopper for a long period of time. This frequent readership helps reinforce the advertiser's message or even develops an ongoing marketing campaign with top of mind awareness. Advertising in publications that have been around for many years can also lend credibility to the advertiser.

IMPORTANT FACTS

The White Sheet has published in Lake Havasu City for over 50 years. Currently publishing over 200 business ads and over 1800 classified/help wanted ads weekly. If the old saying is, "advertise where everybody else is advertising" you should consider advertising in the White Sheet. The White Sheet has been bringing buyers and sellers together for over 50 years.

HOW TO

Choose a Security Company

How much is your family's security worth? What about your valuables?

Installing a professional security system to protect you and your loved ones is critically important in this increasingly uncertain world.

These days, many security companies use cutting-edge, highly customizable technologies that will protect you from intruders and other potential threats. Whether you are searching for a residential or commercial security system, choose a qualified, reputable company with a long track record.

THE COMPANY

There are plenty of companies in the market that can help you, yet choosing the best one can seem like a daunting task. What questions should I ask? Are the technicians fingerprinted, insured and bonded? Would a wireless or wired system best fit my needs? Are the systems proprietary? Do I have to sign a 3 or 5 year contract? If I have a problem with my system, how long will it take for a technician to service my alarm? Be careful about FREE installations, nothing in this world is FREE.

Western Alarm Services, Inc. will help answer all these questions for you. An experienced salesman will educate you on all of your choices so you can pick the system that will best suit your needs.

CUSTOMIZATION

Security systems can be customized for each specific customer. Choosing the right devices can make a big difference in the usefulness of the system and the final cost.

Security systems have come a long way and are more than for just your security needs. They can also incorporate water, smoke and carbon dioxide detection.

THE EXTRAS

With today's generation we want to have instant answers and resolutions, Western Alarm Services, Inc.

understands that. We have security systems that can be controlled on your personal computer or smart device. You have immediate access to your security system no matter how far away you are. You will also have the ability to control your lighting, air conditioning and the arming/disarming of your alarm.

With all that said, the most important factor is trustworthiness. The best companies will support the product long after the sale is complete. They should help you with any problems and make certain you are comfortable with using your alarm system.

After all, a security system is an investment in your peace of mind. Please call Western Alarm Services, Inc. and we can come out and give you a free estimate that will be customized specifically for your security needs. We're Your Safe Place!
